From the Brussels Gazette, dated May 4.

Rome, April 7.

THE Chevalier de Sandre who came to Civita Vecchia in a Ship of Malta, is come to this Court with a Commission from the great Master of the Order of Knights of Malta, to desire Succours of the Pope against the Turks, on Advice that their Naval Force is to make an Attempt on the Island of Malta. The same Day this Gentleman arriv'd here, came two Messengers, one dispatch'd to the Pope by the Apostolical Inquisitor at Malta, the other to Signior Sacchetti Ambassador of the foresaid Order, with a Confirmation of this News, and these Particulars, viz. that 4 large Turkish Ships of War and 12 Gallies were actually sail'd from the Dardanel, and were to be follow'd by another Squadron with Land-Forces, to make a Descent on the formation'd Island; where 'twas discover'd that the Slaves there in Number above 8000, had invited the Infidels, and promis'd that on the Appearance of the first Turkish Vessel with false Colours, they would rise, cut their Masters Throats, and facilitate their Descent. The Pope has sent Orders to Civita Vecchia for fitting out his Gallies with all Expedition, and 'tis said has resolv'd to send forthwith to Malta 500 Men, with a considerable Quantity of Powder. The Ambassador of the Order has sent circular Letters to the Knights residing in the Ecclesiastical State, to hasten to Malta to give their Assistance.

From the Amsterdam and Leidedn Gazette, &c.

Rome, April 21. The 16th Instant, the Pope held a Congregation of Cardinals, on Occasion of King Charles the 3d's forbidding the Payment of Ecclesiastical Revenues in the Kingdom of Naples and the State of Milan to any Persons that are Subjects of the Pope; and while he was holding that Assembly, Cardinal Grimani acquainted him by a Letter, that the French Fleet sent on the Expedition against Scotland had been frighten'd by the Appearance of the British Squadron on that Coast, and had shamefully run back to Dunkirk: At which News the Pope and his Courtiers appear'd extremely dejected. Yesterday the Pope caus'd plenar Indulgences to be publish'd, for all those who shall fast 3 Days and perform their Devotions in the 3 principal Churches of this City, to beg the Blessing of the Almighty upon a Design his Holiness has in View. Some Days ago Cardinal Grimani went to Court, in Quality of Viceroy of Naples and Grandee of Spain; and being admitted to an Audience of the Pope, declar'd to him plainly, that his Master King Charles III demanded that his Holiness should acknowledge him for Monarch of Spain, and send a Nuncio to him at Barcelona as he does to the Duke of Anjou, and that he should furnish him with as much Money as he has that Duke. 'Tis said he added, that in case of Refusal there were 2500 Imperial Horse in Naples, ready to enter Romagna belonging to the Ecclesiastical State. 'Tis not known what Answer the Pope return'd, nor what was the Result of a Congregation that he assembled on the Occasion. The Soldiers levied to be sent to Malta, have begun their march to Civita Vecchia, whence they are to be transported to that Island, and are to form a Battalion of 600 Men under the command of Don Frederick Colonna, the eldest Caprain of the Pope's Guards. Some Advices from Malta do not only confirm the Discovery of the Plot form'd by the Turkish Slaves there; but add, that a good Number of conceal'd Arms had been found.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated May 11.

Legborne, April 20. The 14th Instant 2 English Men of War, the Centurion and the Fowey arriv'd here from Barcelona, and landed some Officers who are gone for England. Porto-Hercule holds out still against the Attacks of the Imperialists. By a Vessel arriv'd from Algiers we have an Account, that 2 English Ships which by a Gust of Wind were driven towards the Coast of Barbary, took a French Ship richly laden bound from Marseilles for Cadix. A bark laden with Corn for the Imperialists is sail'd from hence for Genoa: That the Republick have given Leave to the Imperialists to transport from thence to Barcelona Custom-free 600 Chests of Merchandize, and 1000 Sacks of Oats, sent from the State of Milan for the Service of the Army in Catalonia.

From the Amsterdam Courant, Ma 12.

Vienna, April 28. The Presents to the Queen of Spain, and the Expence of her Journey, amount to a very considerable Sum; which notwithstanding Money is so scarce at this Court, they could not avoid furnishing: they have besides remitted to King Charles 300000 Florins, being his Yearly Patrimonial Revenue till he is in full possession of Spain. Her Catholick Majesty has in her Train 91 Coaches, Chaises, or Carriages, 405 Coach Horses and 31 Saddle Horses; the Bishop of Osnabrug 11 Coaches or Chaises, and 48 Saddle Horses. The States of the Archduchy of Austria made a Present of 300000 Florins to her Majesty at Haderstorff. She will be 6 Weeks in her Journey to Milan. The Emperour made a Present of his Picture set with Diamonds and a Ring worth 2000 Florins to Baron Imhoff, who accompanies her Majesty as Envoy from her Father the Duke of Wolfembuttel: And has made a Present of like Value to the Conde de Galvas her Chamberlain. The Young Count de Paer, who conducted her hither, has been presented with a Ring of very great Value. The Emperour has dispatch'd an Express, to acquaint the King of Spain that his Marriage has been Solemniz'd, and that his Queen is on her Way to him: Which Express carries likewise a Letter from the Queen to his Catholick Majesty, and a Sketch of the Military Operations projected for this Campaign. The States of Bavaria are to make a Present to the Queen of Spain.

Venice, April 27. The Imperial Court have consented, that the Queen of Spain, in her Passage through the Venetian Territories, shall not be complimented in the Name of the Republick; but that the Podesta, or chief Magistrate of the Places thro' which she passes, shall compliment her in their own Names, and give her the Title of Majesty. 'Tis thought the Court of Rome will use the same Expedient.

Vienna, April 28. The 25th Instant her Catholick Majesty, with all her Retinue, accompany'd by the Bishop of Osnabrug Prince of Lorraine, set forward from the Castle of Haderstorff on her Journey to Italy: She din'd that Day at Moubach 2 Leagues from Haderstorff and at Night lay at Tulln 2 Leagues further. The 26th she was to dine at Salladorff which is 3 Leagues, and lie at St. Polten 2 Leagues; the 27th she was to rest all Day; to Day (the 28th) she dines at Neuenmark 2 Leagues, and lies at Amstetten 2 Leagues. Whence her Journey is regulated by Stages of 4 Leagues a Day, or 6 at most, through Stimmerger-Pillen, Ens, Wells, Maria Trenck, Lambach, Haag, Riedt in Bavaria, Braunau, Old Euting, Creiberg, Wasserburg, Rosenheim, Fitchbach, Rozheim, Kuffstein, Rottenberg, Schwarz, Inspruch, Stainach, over Mount Brenner, Steizuggen, Bressanone, Colman, Bolzano, Neumarek, and Michel, to Trent; where she is to arrive the 16th of May, and thence proceed through divers Cities of Italy to Genoa, to pass over by Sea from thence to Catalonia.

Vienna,

Vienna, April 28. 'The States of Hungary assembled in Diet at Presbourg, forbear all Proceedings, till the Deputies they have chosen from among themselves to examine and state impartially those Points in which the Hungarians may in any manner be aggrieved in their Privileges and Liberties, and to propose Means for redressing them, have finish'd and given in their Report. In the mean time the chief Leaders of the Malecontents of Hungary are holding an Assembly at Caschau, and they expect M. de Bonac Envoy of France to come to them from Poland. So that we have little Hopes that any Resolutions which the Diet at Presbourg may pass, to dispose the Malecontents to an Accommodation, will have a due Effect upon them.
